to the Canvassing Board for General Election Nov 7)

Report to the Canvassing Board for 2023 at the General Election Nov 7 Certification Meeting

The election staff worked together well during this ballot processing season. This is typical of the employees and very commendable. That makes the work go forward in an organized manner. Even the disruption of the “white powder envelopes” was handled quite well. This emergency was a more serious disruption than the time several years ago when the squirrel knocked out the power to the whole neighborhood for two hours -- which was also handled well.

Everyone involved in the election process have been getting used to several changes in the last 5 years – VoteWA for signature verification, ClearBallot counting system, covid-19 restrictions and the subsequent readjustment back to working arrangements identified as “normal”—sort of.

Our team of observers has had a lot of their questions answered by the supervisors which does help in getting a better understanding of the new systems.

More questions, observations and /or suggestions –

1. Thank you to Ryan for sending the matchback report every day. Since we do not get a daily ballot status report under the new system, this helps keep track of how many ballots are in the processing system each day. The SoS site is still awkward to use and sometimes the numbers do not balance very well. Are there some categories of ballots in the processing queue that are reported differently by the SoS charts and graphs? Why do the numbers on the reports no longer always match up?

- 1a. The VoteWA generated ballot numbers do not reconcile to each other in the General 2022 Election – could be off about 3500+ ballots depending on which PRR report is read. Primary 2023 numbers come a little closer to reconciling since the PRR reports do show 223 were generated, but then the number “sent” (75) does not match up even closely with 113 physical paper “declaration” pages. There are too many estimated numbers used in the reports which keep it from reconciling as required by RCW.

2. Ballot drop box observing was done at about half of the 27 locations. The boxes observed are in good repair, locks worked and voters were using them. A couple of box sites are not lit at night and the employee teams sent to empty those were hesitant to accept any assistance from our observers to help provide more light. And then there is the concern that voters might be hesitant to use those boxes in the evenings as well. (Latah and Argonne)

3. Are some drop boxes picked up on weekends ? – for example the box in the Election Office parking lot or Shadle Library or Center Place in the Valley?

4. At Election night 8pm tabulation the report of election results – 26 pages this time – was not printed out in the tabulation room. We are used to having an observer copy that is printed at that location so that the chain of custody of the report from the tabulation can be compared to reports printed from the web-site or other electronic/web site locations. What has happened to that practice?

5. There are still concerns about the mail delivery by the DeVries employee. The mail trays are open and stacked in the back of the delivery van with other deliveries for other locations. It would be better to have a direct hand off from the Post Office to a team of Election employees possibly including the “end of run” postal paperwork reports for each mail tray.

6. The AVUs are ballot printing machines after they have been set up for use during the election season. Those machines would be supervised more transparently if they were located in the main work area where they could be observed before being put into service at a Voter Service Center location. The AVU preparation room is not open to being watched by election observers.

7. What action does this entry in the ballot processing web-log functionally do or change with regard to the ballot counting process? Is it done by our Election IT or does it come from an outside service person?

update_bdf,

8. The videos that have been getting through the PRRs for small time periods of recordings look very good (once I figured out how to play them). How many cameras are there now? Are there plans for additional placements? Are there cameras outside the building near entrances and exits?

8a. This entry on the web/ballot processing log does not show any human interaction with the tabulation equipment on the PRR video requested for those time periods. Was this computer action done on another system – in an area without a camera – but still included in the log?

9. More explanation about the changes with signature verification is needed. Observers have seen many signatures get accepted that do not appear to be valid. Signature verification tutorials put out on the EAC web-site do not address our SoS signature standards. Since there are at least 3 lawsuits in this state concerning proper signature verification, this is a very critical step in ballot processing.

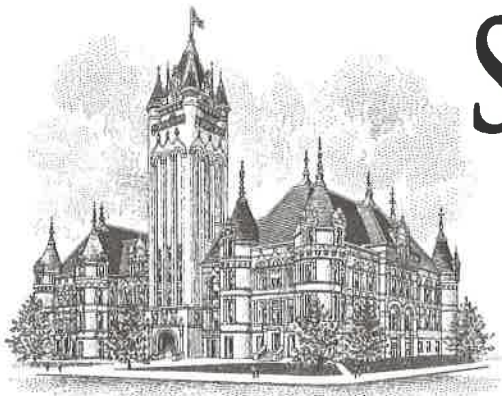

10. Have there been any more changes made to the Canvassing Board manual this year?

Thank you,

Ruth Ryan SCRCC Election Committee chair – submitted for Nov 28, 2023 Election Certification meeting
